SIERRA MADRE, CALIF. THURSDAY, JANUARY 5, 1950.

VOL. 44, NO. 8

Around the Square

Riding the float in the Rose Parade last Monday was the climax for Mrs. Sally Dewey of years of helping to build parade floats for Sierra Madre.

The mother of young Pete Ward declares, however, that no son of hers will ever again take part in the Rose Parade. The boy thought nothing of the five mile jaunt at two miles an hour, but Mother had the jitters during the whole time—particularly after she found out that the two youngsters and Mrs. Dewey weren't "tied on" with airplane safety belts.

Unfortunately, the beautiful floral design of hooked rugs on the floor of the Sierra Madre float could not be seen by the curbstone gazer. The float framework itself must be so high because of the Studebaker chassis used for motive power. Might be well for one of Sierra Madre's service clubs to buy or have built a low hung chassis for future floats.

It was a cold and raw day, and spectators in heavy coats and blanket wraps could well feel sorry for some of the float participants. Although some of the lovelies in their party gowns were left with only shoulders to the weather because they sported (unseen) wool longies and (some of them) fur coats and sat on hot water bottles, a few of the floats, for example, San Pedro and Houston's Shamrock Hotel, had live bathing gals in nothing but bathing suits. Unlike Santa Fe's Indians, who whooped and stamped to keep warm, the bathing beauties were supposed to look warm with not much more than a smile to keep them warm.

Shortly after the parade got underway (about 45 minutes to be exact), newsboys were hawking a Los Angeles paper (7c) along the parade route with pictures of the prize winning floats. At the end of the parade route spectators could buy a paper with these pictures even before the start of the parade got to them.

All of which is the result of planning that approximates the planning that goes into a military campaign. Picture shooting starts in the formation area soon after 5 a. m. From 7 a. m. on motorcycle riders rack negatives into the newspaper offices at less than 30-minute intervals. A radio car is at the scene to give the story and flash the prize winners—the prize float pictures are already in newspaper darkrooms and being processed because the float has already been photographed.

One Los Angeles paper (5c) sported a long story about how enterprising it was in hiring a helicopter to take pictures from the air. It had a picture of the helicopter and the photographer delivering the plates—but the sheet didn't use any of its helicopter-view pictures.

To our way of thinking the hundreds of photos that covered the parade (or the picture editors who selected the pictures) missed the gay shot of the festival—Queen Marion Brown, in her gorgeous trappings, going along on hands and knees on the overhead plank to get to her high throne on the float.

Anyway, it was another wonderful parade, and Sierra Madreans thank everyone who took part in financing and building the city's float to represent us. We are doubly proud because it was conceived and built here as a community project.

First Concert Wednesday To Feature Lyric Soprano

First Sierra Madre program of the Community Concert Association will be presented next Wednesday evening, Jan. 11, 8:15 o'clock at the City School auditorium.

Don Jackson, president of the Association, said featured artist for the first local concert will be Lyric Soprano Carolyn Long.

Miss Long, rated by many critics as the latest All-American singer, is beautiful as well as gifted and fulfilled a staggering first season of concerts during 1946-7, when she crossed the United States twice, covering 32,000 miles.

That, the beginning of her professional career, culminated many years of appearances as a child star in her native state, Maryland.

At the age of 16, Miss Long was awarded a two-year scholarship in piano at the Peabody Conservatory of Music, and shortly afterwards, she received another scholarship in voice, winning over 83 contestants. From that point in her life, she concentrated on singing.

For four years, she studied voice and opera and while at Peabody made her professional debut in Baltimore as Letitia in the premiere of the humorous opera, "The Old Maid and the Thief," by Gian-Carlo Menotti. Her performance in this role won her the Thomas Award at Peabody for the "Best all-round performance of the year."

During the war, Miss Long refused all professional offers and devoted herself to singing for the armed forces at camps, hospitals, and naval training stations.

It was through her wartime appearances that her big chance came. When Columbia

Nursery School Moves From Church Quarters

Having worked every day of the three-day New Year week-end, the Fathers of the Sierra Madre Community Nursery School Association are pushing to get the new Nursery School building finished within the next 30 days, weather and energies permitting.

Unable to finish the building by Dec. 31, the Association moved the Nursery School from the Congregational Church, in conforming with its agreement with the church.

"This move does not mean the suspension of operations, however," George Parr, Association president, said. "The Nursery School will continue during the waiting period under a plan authorized by the Board of Trustees at its December meeting."

He said the children will be divided into three age groups and will attend Nursery School at the Park House or at the home of either of two members of the Association.

The equipment at the church was moved by the Fathers last Saturday to the homes of Francis Dane, 226 Olivera Lane, and W. K. Keith, 561 W. Grandview, to be used by the children until the Nursery School building is completed.

Melvin Goodsell, contractor, plans to build and place window and door frames and finish plumbing installations during the remainder of this week, Mr. Parr said.

Electrical work by Robert and Marvin Thomas, local electrical contractors, has been completed and is ready for the first inspection. The Nursery School roof, made of white rock, was completed on New Year's Eve.

Plastering and stuccoing, with the application of ceiling button-board, is planned for the Association Fathers' next "day off"—this week-end.

RIDING ON the Prize-winning Sierra Madre float were Mrs. Alfred James Dewey, wife of the float designer and prominent local artist, left; Peter Ward, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ward of the Sierra Madre NEWS; and Vickie Sue Carlson (right), 5½, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Carlson Jr., 471 Foothill. The three representatives of this city on the float portrayed a Colonial lady, a little boy and girl of the Early American period, respectively.

FLOAT ON DISPLAY AT P. E. STATION

To permit residents a closer look at their prize-winning float, Sierra Madre's entry is on display today and tomorrow on North Baldwin avenue, adjacent to the Pacific Electric Station.

Acting Street and Water Superintendent Vernon Udell drove the float into Sierra Madre yesterday from the Post-Parade Exhibit at Woodrow Wilson Junior High School in Pasadena.

Stolen Car Found By Police

A stolen car—the first one in Sierra Madre in 11 months—was recovered by police Thursday even before the owner reported it missing.

The car, a 1941 Pontiac sedan, owned by Morris Yasskin, 391 Auburn, was found abandoned in a field near Sierra Madre boulevard and Hastings Ranch Road.

Besides having been thoroughly ransacked, the car's two front wheels and tires were missing, and the front end of the automobile was resting on the ground.

The hood was found open and glove compartment rifled. Rear seat, cushion, and fibre-board partition had been ripped out in an apparent attempt to steal the car.

Holiday Shopping 'Slightly Increased,' Survey Shows

Christmas business in Sierra Madre slightly increased in volume over last year, according to a survey conducted by the Sierra Madre NEWS.

In a sampling of 10 businesses, six merchants said Christmas shopping in this city showed a healthy upswing as compared with Christmas, 1948.

The consensus of opinion, however, was that although there were considerably more customers, they made smaller purchases.

A woman merchant in town offered this explanation: Citizens are becoming more cautious in their holiday gift purchases. Apparently uncertain about the future, they buy less expensive gifts than usual. Shoppers buy more presents than ever before, but they generally are lower priced.

Two business establishments reported that their Christmas business this year was "just fair." Both these stores only recently changed ownership, however, and cannot be considered completely reorganized.

Two other merchants—from the cross-section of 10—stated that their volume of holiday business was way below that of last year. One, a druggist, reports that his business fell off 25 per cent from Christmas a year ago.

The owner of a gift shop suggested that Sierra Madreans do not fully realize what a selection of Christmas gifts and other merchandise is available in their own city.

In describing his Christmas business as "good," one businessman qualified his state-

Sierra Madre's Float Wins for Third Year

Sales Total $94.34 In Seals Drive

A total of $94.34 in Tuberculosis Christmas Seals were sold this year by Sierra Madre's Mapha Club, sponsor of the drive.

Mrs. Harold Zook, campaign chairman, said this amount represents the largest total in recent years. Last year, the group sold $84.35 worth of the stickers which combat tubercular and rheumatic fever diseases.

From the fourteen self-sellers, displayed in local stores and public buildings, $78.46 in Christmas Seals were sold. The balance, $15.88, was received from sales through the booth maintained on four successive Saturday mornings in front of the Bank of Sierra Madre.

CITY'S 'OLD SPINNING WHEEL' GETS FIRST PRIZE IN CLASS

For the third consecutive year, First Prize was awarded Sierra Madre's entry in the Tournament of Roses Parade.

Again earning top honors for floats in Class A-5 (cities having populations between 5000 and 10,000), the local floral spectacle was greeted enthusiastically by the million and a half paradegoers.

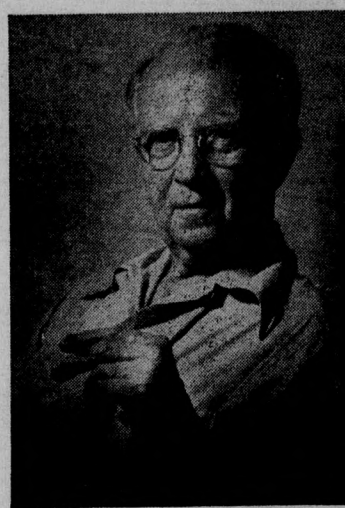

Entitled "The Old Spinning Wheel," the city float portrayed an Early American Colonial living room, dressed in some 75,000 flowers, and featuring a Colonial lady sitting at her spinning wheel, and two youngsters seated around the open fireplace.

As in years past, designer of the prize-winning entry was Sierra Madre artist Alfred James Dewey.

Mrs. Dewey rode in the parade, depicting the Colonial lady; Peter Ward and Vickie Sue Carlson were the youngsters on the Sierra Madre float.

Working behind the scenes in creating one of the few truly "community" floats were between 30 and 35 Sierra Madreans. Many of them toiled for several weeks on various phases of the construction and planning that could be done ahead of time, and they all pitched-in and worked during the last feverish hours before Parade time.

Mayor J. Milton Steinberger and Mrs. Steinberger contributed much time and energy to Turn To Page Four—

Block of New Stores Is Planned

A block of four new stores is being planned for construction in the near future on West Sierra Madre boulevard, it was indicated this week by Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Scalzo.

The couple announced that the modernistic stores will be located on the lot between Marshall's Nursery, 147 W. Sierra Madre boulevard, and the Church of the Nazarene, 191 W. Sierra Madre boulevard.

The four business tenants have not been decided upon as yet, Mrs. Scalzo reported, but she said Joe Scalzo's Pet Supply Store would be one of them.

At the same time, Don Jackson has announced that he will expand his store when the Pet Store moves west by April 30, 1950.

By tearing out the dividing wall, Mr. Jackson will reopen with a store double the present size. It will be known as "Don Jackson's Men's and Boys' Store" and will carry complete lines for both Junior and Dad.

Basic Class For Scouters Starts Jan. 9

First session of the Sierra Madre Basic Scouters' Course will be conducted Monday night, Jan. 9, at the Youth Hut, it was disclosed this week by R. G. Barrett, Sierra Madre District Commissioner.

Offering basic training as preparation for Boy Scout leadership, the class is open to all Sierra Madre Scouters. Beginning time of the session is 7:30. The class will meet on four consecutive Monday evenings under the leadership of Milt Goldberg and his staff. Mr. Goldberg is District Training and Leadership chairman.

The training will include Scouting pictures, round-table discussions, and demonstrations of the various phases of Scout work.

Local Woman Bound For Madrid, Spain

Frances Robertson will finally have the opportunity to make use of the Spanish language (her major in college), when she flies to Madrid, Spain, Jan. 9, for a two-year secretarial assignment with the U. S. Air Force. For the past three years she has been doing government work with the U.S. Army in Sofia, Bulgaria.

Miss Robertson arrived here just before Christmas to spend a week with her parents, Postmaster and Mrs. Eddie D. Robertson of 490 N. Sunnyside. She returned to Washington, D.C., last Thursday.

Since her last visit here in August, Miss Robertson has been stationed at the Pentagon Building in Washington.

Miss Robertson is a Pasadena City College alumna, and was graduated from the University of California at Berkeley in 1945.

Chamber to Elect Directors Monday

Ten new Directors of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce will be elected Monday evening, Jan. 9, at 8 p. m., in the City Hall Council Chambers.

Al E. Margan, Chamber president, said the Directors will join five other Directors held over from last year. From the entire Board, officers for the year 1950 will be elected.

Mr. Margan said 15 candidates for the 10 Board vacancies were nominated last week. Names submitted were those of Lucille Eaton, Eddie Robertson, Frank Spencer, Robert Green, Chloe Bowman, Al Wetherbee, O. P. Arnold, Al Morgan, Stanley Brown, Henry Nelson, Irving Pollock, John Conzelman, Dr. Thomas Wynne, Emile Smith, and Carl Hansen.

Peter Ward, Harold Spears, Harold Stine, Lawrence Garland, and Francis Danielson are the five Board members continuing to serve their terms during 1950.

City Dismantles PE Depot Display

City workmen Tuesday afternoon officially ended the Christmas Season in Sierra Madre by dismantling the Pacific Electric Depot decorations.

The public employees toiled most of the afternoon in putting the Santa Claus, snow, icicles, and wooden fence away in "moth-balls" until next year.

BACK TO COLLEGE

George Grijalva, son of Mrs. Katherine Varela of 136 W. Highland, returned Tuesday evening to San Jose State College, where he is a language major. He spent the two-week holiday vacation in Sierra Madre.

Udell Tells Experiences of Driving City's Float

Vernon Udell, a man who should know, says he wouldn't drive a float in a Rose Parade again for all the Rose Bowl tickets in the world.

To back up this statement, Mr. Udell, acting street and water superintendent, has seven years' experience in driving Sierra Madre's entry in the New Year's Day floral pageant.

"It's too nerve wracking," Mr. Udell stated flatly.

"You can't see where you are driving, except through a tiny slit, and by the time you've driven two or three miles in low gear at from 2 to 4 miles per hour, it is unbearably hot."

He said the "second driver clause" in Tournament of Roses regulations always used to worry him a little also.

This provision calls for a substitute driver to ride in the float and stand by in case the first driver is overcome by fumes. During Mr. Udell's seven years of driving the float, Joseph Swanson was the "co-pilot."

Recalling one of many humorous but nerve-racking experiences, Mr. Udell said that in the 1941 parade, the float developed a flat front tire. From Hill avenue to the Wilson Junior High School, he had difficulty keeping the Sierra Madre float in line and at the proper distance.

"The vibration was terrific," Mr. Udell related.

That was in 1941 when our float portrayed the Statue of Liberty and an American flag.

"When it was all over, friends kept asking us how in the world we managed to make the flag wave and sway so convincingly. We only told a very few of them that the flat tire deserved all of the credit."

When just a few yards from the end of the parade, the wheel came off completely, he said.

Mr. Udell is the son of Arthur M. Udell, Sierra Madre's first City Marshal and a very well-known citizen.

During the last three years (Udell drove the float until 1947) he has still been taking an active hand in the preparation of the city float. He drives over with the float as it is being taken to the starting point of the parade.

Mr. Udell, a resident of Sierra Madre for 41 years, makes his home with his family at 403 W. Sierra Madre boulevard. He has been employed by the city for 25 years and has helped Alfred James Dewey with our float for the past 10 years. He is Assistant Chief of the Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department.

Mrs. Cline Joins Husband In Texas

Mrs. Clair B. Cline and children, Gene and Linda, left December 22 to join Mr. Cline in Hondo, Texas. Mr. Cline has been in Hondo the past month, and the family expects to establish a permanent home there.

For the past ten years the Clines have resided at 205 Wilson. Mr. Cline was formerly Senior Warden of Sierra Madre Lodge 408, F. & A. M.

BUILDING PERMIT FILED FOR CITY'S NEW POST OFFICE

A building permit for Sierra Madre's new Post Office was filed last Wednesday with Building Inspector William Lees.

In the permit, Contractor Harold Spears estimated the cost of the new building would be $14,000.

Address of the new Post Office, originally announced as 309 W. Sierra Madre boulevard, has been changed to "303," according to Mr. Lees. He said the number switch was necessitated when U.S. postal officials erroneously listed "303" when they mailed their approval of the new site.

"We decided it would be easier to change our number than to cause a delay and much red tape by insisting the government change its street number," Mr. Lees said.

Motorist Hits Parked Auto

Glancing briefly into the back seat of her car proved costly this week for Mrs. Libby Freedman, 265 Ramona, when her automobile chose that instant to smash into a parked car.

Mrs. Freedman told Sierra Madre police officers that she heard packages begin to fall from the back seat of her car and heard her dog barking, and as she turned her head for a split second, her auto struck another parked in front of 193 Ramona, owned by Kenneth R. Sherman of that address.

Damage was slight to both vehicles, Mr. Sherman's car receiving a dented left rear fender and hub-cap, and Mrs. Freedman's auto sustaining a dented right front fender.

Red Cross Slates Directors' Election

Eight directors for the year 1950 will be elected at the Annual Meeting of the Sierra Madre Chapter of American Red Cross, slated for Monday, Jan. 16.

President R. C. Lewis announced this week that a nominating committee, headed by Mrs. John E. Conzelman, is preparing a list of candidates for the rotating, 24-member ARC Board of Directors.

Members of the nominating committee—besides Mrs. Conzelman—include Mrs. May de Wright, Mrs. H. R. Wood, Mrs. Rebecca Colligan, and C. W. Jones.

Following the Director's election, other officers of the Chapter will be elected at the regular February meeting of the Board, Mr. Lewis said.

A special program is being arranged for the Annual Chapter Meeting.

"Trial of Jesus" Due At Nazarene Church

This Sunday evening at the Nazarene Church an original dramatic portrayal, "Trial of Jesus," will be presented by Rev. Oscar Stern of Compton.

Rev. Stern will act as the prosecuting attorney; his co-worker, Rev. Charles Hamowitz, will be the defense attorney; Rev. Orian Burlison is to be the judge, and the congregation will act as jurors.

Rev. Stern, a native of Czechoslovakia, escaped to England just before World War II and helped rescue children through the underground system.

Driver Cited In Collision

In a traffic collision Thursday morning in which both drivers admitted they did not see each other until it was too late, the two cars were heavily damaged.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Grandview and North Mount, Trail at 10:30 a. m. The right side of the car driven south on Grandview by LaVerne Elizabeth Koustmer was badly dented. Mrs. Koustmer lives at 3426½ Barhite, Pasadena.

William Schultz Jr., 1732 La Paz Road, Altadena, the other motorist involved, was driving east on Grandview when the accident happened. His automobile received a smashed left front grill.

Investigating police officers cited Mr. Schultz for failing to make a proper stop at an intersection having a stop sign. Police said he stopped his vehicle when still 20 feet away from the intersection.

It was believed heavy shrubbery in the area may have obstructed the view of the drivers until the moment of entering the intersection.

CHAMBER SQUARE DANCE ATTENDED BY 60 RESIDENTS

Nearly 60 Sierra Madrans took part in the last of two free Chamber of Commerce evening Square Dance at the Masonic Temple, Dec. 22.

Chamber Dance Chairman Robert Green reports that seven squares (eight dancers to a square) were participants at the dance, sponsored by local business men, manufacturers, and merchants. Mr. Green said it was a "near-capacity attendance."

Caller for the dances was Jack Hoheisel, known throughout San Gabriel Valley for his calling. "Live" music was provided by violinist Woody Robertson and accordionist Lloyd Paul-Jones.

During the evening, a demonstration square, consisting of members of the original "Cactus Twisters," performed exhibition dances of various types.

Dancers of this square included Homer and Louise Alt-house, Al and Harriet Dunn, Leroy and Shirley Lindgren, and Clyde and Bonnie Hoover.

Car Strikes Local Woman In Oakland

Ralph S. Macaulay, 51 Canon, calling from Oakland, reports that his wife and sister are being treated in the Providence Hospital in Oakland and are doing "as well as can be expected" following the accident in which they were involved on Dec. 19.

The two women were seriously injured when an alleged drunken driver struck them down in a pedestrian crosswalk on one of Oakland's busy streets. A man, Theodore Du-fau, 61, also crossing the street, was killed by the same car.

Oakland police say the driver of the automobile was intoxicated, and sped through the intersection against the red light. He was cited on the drunk charge and for manslaughter.

Upon learning of the accident, Mr. Macaulay and son, Stewart, a Muir College student, left immediately for Oakland. Mrs. Macaulay had been visiting her sister in the Bay Area city.

Hayriding Singers Tour City Streets

A haywagon, drawn by two horses and bearing Christmas carolers, made its annual trip through town Thursday, Dec. 22.

Leaving the Pacific Electric Depot at 7 p. m., the wagon journeyed through Sierra Madre streets, with the music of girl carolers filling the night air.

The Madrean Singers, directed by Mrs. Richard O. Richards, sang numerous numbers from atop the slowly-moving wagon, accompanied by Mrs. Marjorie Hobson, accordionist. Wending its way north on Baldwin to Grandview, the wagon then proceeded west to Sunnyside, then south to Sierra Madre boulevard and back to the Depot.

The hayriders paused briefly at the Woman's Clubhouse, where the Sierra Madre Lions Club was entertaining children of the Plaza Community Center Home.

Madrean choristers serenaded the children and Lions, then picked up Santa Claus and returned him to the P. E. Station, where he presented youngsters with candy-filled stockings.

Santa was at the Depot again on Friday night and gave out additional stockings.

Music for Friday's program was supplied by Sierra Madre Girl Scouts.

FIRE FLAMES

As days go, and nights pass, the fire department keeps hoping that there will not be a fire during the New Year. Asleep in a warm comfy bed, is not the time for the sound of a fire alarm to jerk one from such comfort.

In Sierra Madre, there is so very much to be thankful for. Of course a fire column is a fire column and what we are thankful for is pertaining to fire. We are so very, very grateful for the wonderful absence of fire calls here. We are so very grateful for the great assistance of the residents, who are so thoughtful and co-operative.

If there were many that thought little of the danger of allowing accumulations of rubbish and inflammable materials to gather around the premises—then there would be little hope of low fire loss and a good reason for a high insurance rate. Recent calls for fire inspection brought forth proof that all home owners are NOT aware of the dangers of fire. In a neighborhood where homes are built close together, a very poor burning arrangement was used to disastrous results. Had it not been that daytime and the early discovery helped, chances are, we might have had serious results.

If we think of how towns have been burned from one end to the other and wonder how it happened, perhaps we would be a little more serious about this thing called FIRE PREVENTION. So fortunate have we been in arriving at fires in the very earliest seconds, that we little realize the extent that fire can reach in seconds. It is important that arrival be early. As fire-fighters, we urge people to give us a chance to get to the fire. If drivers of cars will use only ordinary precaution, keep clear of the territory in which the fire may be, keep clear the street so that fire fighters can get in. The fire fighters are ready and willing to fight the fire, it is a duty and a pleasure. We DO NOT want disastrous results.

And now, after the Town Float has paraded and won—there is an important matter confronting the men of the Fire Dept. Who, when, how and what time are we going to prepare the "Quarters" for public inspection? Since the placing of the new furniture around the room, there are many articles that have suddenly taken on an appearance of misplaced antiques. The publicity of the new seats has created requests for a display. It is safe enough to announce that if we are given just a little more time, we will invite our dear friends to a house warming.

If there are any members of the fire department who read this, it may be a fitting place to remind them that January 6th is the date set for that

"Clean Up" meeting. Bring along your scrubbing clothes.

We are glad to report that we collected sufficient money during the Christmas campaign to carry out all our intentions. Several baskets of good food were distributed to worthy people and enough stockings were filled to supply 800 children. For all this, we want to thank our public. We ask suggestions on this annual affair. Could we change arrangements for improvement?

During the process of a very enjoyable New Year's Eve party, several of the firemen were asked to aid in removing an injured man from deep in the canyon below Chantry Flats. Among the gathering was a large percentage of the members of the Fire Departments. All offered assistance. Only the first to the door were permitted to go, too many would have left the town without sufficient fire fighters. Among these were "Mo" Thomas, Mercer Duff, Charlie Brown, Jim Heasley and Ed Decker. The man was carried with the use of a wire basket stretcher. Regardless of the strenuous drill of marching up the grade with the injured man, the fellows returned to the party and enjoyed the balance of a Happy New Year gathering.

Many fire places are now being used. Modern fireplaces should be inspected and if so should be nearly "foolproof." For safety's sake, it is urged that screens be kept on front of fire places. This not only protects children but prevents sparks from flying to hazardous places. Let's keep the FIRES OUT.

In announcing the "back to normal schedule," Recreation Director Sam McElfresh also disclosed several openings in each class.

"Applications will be accept-

The upholstery class meets on Wednesdays and Fridays at the Youth Hut, from 9 to 3; the lampshade class meets in the school cafeteria on Tuesday evenings, from 7 to 10 p. m.

The copper and leather class meets Thurs. evening, 7 to 10 in the school cafeteria.

Coordinating Group Cancels Meeting

Monthly meeting of the Sierra Madre Coordinating Council, scheduled for last Tuesday, Jan. 3, was canceled because of the busy holiday season.

John E. Conzelman, president, said next meeting of the group will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 7.

From now on, the Coordinating Council will meet at the City Hall in the Council Chambers, at 8 p. m., according to Mr. Conzelman. Formerly, the Youth Hut was used for the organization's meetings.

MARCH OF DIMES CAMPAIGN NEARLY READY TO START

Widespread distribution of March of Dimes coin collectors is now underway among Sierra Madre merchants, the Bank of Sierra Madre, and various local clubs, Mrs. Leo Meyer, March of Dimes chairman of the Civic Club, announced this week.

The March of Dimes annual fund appeal of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis will open Monday, Jan. 16, and continue through Jan. 31.

"This year, the collector simulates a miniature respirator," Mrs. Meyer said. "It is like a genuine life-saving respirator and is designed to make its own great contribution in the fight against polio."

"Money placed in one of these containers will help empty real iron lungs and give patients a new lease on life and health," she said.

Kansas City Trip

Mrs. Warren Johnson and Mrs. Oleta de Campo of Fashion Future Shop, returned this week from a business-pleasure trip to Kansas City, Mo.

Kansas City is Mrs. de Campo's home town, and Mrs. Johnson spent New Year's with her husband, who is there on business.

'The Young And Fair' Begins Run

"The Young and Fair," N. Richard Nash's play from the 1948 Broadway season, will be the post-holiday fare for playgoers at the Pasadena Community Playhouse.

In the setting of Brook Valley Academy, a finishing school of the junior college bracket, "The Young and Fair" pits a score of young ladies against the realities of a large world and themselves.

Lenore Shanewise directs the Playhouse staging and plays a major role, with Andrea Blayne, Dale Hubbard, Carylyn Seitz, Delores Miter, Sonia Stoffel, Ellen Berry, and Carolyn Mohr heading the large cast.

"The Young and Fair" began its Pasadena run last night, Jan. 4, and continues to Jan. 15. "Cricket on the Hearth" ended its holiday run on Jan. 1.

City Chorus In Rehearsal For Concert

Director of the Sierra Madre Community Chorus, Stewart Matter, announces the first weekly rehearsal of 1950 for Monday, Jan. 9, 8 p. m., in the City School Auditorium.

This rehearsal will begin practice for a concert in the near future, consisting of miscellaneous music of both religious and secular nature.

The sacred numbers will include choral pieces representative of the best music of the Catholic, Protestant, Jewish, and Russian Orthodox faiths, including compositions of two citizens of Sierra Madre.

The secular choral numbers will be drawn from such popular operettas as "Blossom Time" and "Student Prince."

Director Matter and President Francis Eakman urge persons who took part in the recent rendition of "The Messiah" to be on hand promptly for this first rehearsal, and they invite all other persons who wish to join the Chorus to be present.

Messrs. Matter and Eakman have indicated that they will be happy to have such prospective new members interview them at the auditorium at 7:45 Monday evening.

All members are eligible for one hour of high school credit in the Pasadena City School system.

'FIRST FRONTIER,' AZUSA NITE-SPOT, TO OPEN MONDAY

Dick Thayer and Chic Sale, both of Sierra Madre, this week announce the Grand Opening of "First Frontier," 407 W. Foothill boulevard, Azusa, next Monday, Jan. 9.

An old barn that previously had been a perpetual "eyesore" to the citizens of Azusa was remodeled into the attractive new home of "First Frontier," night spot.

The owners report that $15,000 was spent in remodeling the building, and the interior is designed in Early American style. A large stone fireplace in the Cocktail Lounge has been patterned to add comfort on chill days and evenings.

Also following the Early American styling is the Dining Room featuring Lazy Susans on each table, check-full of delicious canapes.

The "First Frontier" is the first semi-night club to open in Azusa.

For the entertainment of guests, "Poison" Gardner will play every evening on the unique Piano-Bar.

An extra novelty that promises to please the guests is the display counter of choice steaks and chops to be selected by the customers and broiled to his liking.

Stan Gilman is manager of the new nitery, and Jack Gratz, formerly of the Ranch House and Club Sixty, will be the host. John Mudd, recently-arrived from New York City, will serve as maitre; and William Morton, the first colored chef on Santa Fe's continental run and just recently from the Brentwood Country Club, is chef.

The "First Frontier" will be open seven days a week, from 10 a. m. to 2 a. m.

STOLEN CAR.

tempt to gain entry to open the trunk compartment, which was locked.

Sierra Madre Chief of Police Gordon G. McMillan said the only items left behind in the front wheel assembly were the two hub caps, which were found lying neatly on the ground.

Mrs. Yasskin told police that the car was stolen from in front of her home on Auburn between the hours of 3:30 p. m. Dec. 23, and 10:15 a. m., Dec. 29. She said the keys had not been left in the car, but that the doors were unlocked.

Police were unable to determine if a jumper wire had been used to start the car, or if the thief had an ignition key that just happened to fit.

Shortly before Mrs. Yasskin reported the theft, Pasadena Police called the Sierra Madre Police Station, stating that a car had been located in Hastings Ranch, partially stripped but otherwise in good working order.

Chief McMillan said several curious passers-by apparently had looked around the abandoned auto, and attempted to find satisfactory finger or foot prints were futile.

He said there had been no attempt to steal the car's radio or heater.

The last stolen car in Sierra Madre occurred on Jan. 27 of last year.

Friendship Club Will Hear D'Arcy

Dr. Daniel D'Arcy will speak on vision at Monday's meeting of the Sierra Madre Friendship Club, Jan. 9, at the City Park House.

Meeting at 2:30 p. m., Club members will hear Dr. D'Arcy discuss "Facts and Fancies Concerning Vision."

Dr. D'Arcy practices optometry in Sierra Madre and is professor of geometric optics and the theory of lens and optical instrument design at the Los Angeles College of Optometry.

CITY REPRESENTED AT SANTA ANITA

Sierra Madre has three representatives at Santa Anita Park this year.

They are Police Officers William Mackie, M. (Tex) Gotcher, and Paul Bird, working in conjunction with the Arcadia Police Department in directing traffic to and from the famed race track.

Working four hours a day, five days a week throughout the 50-day season, the local officers hope to supplement their present incomes received from the city.

In spite of these long hours (they will be averaging 74 hours a week), the officers look only slightly "bushed."

Pastor To Tell Of European DP Work

Rev. Peter J. Jensen will tell his impressions and suggestions concerning Protestant care of Displaced Persons, at a 7 o'clock dinner meeting of the Congregational Church Laymen's Fellowship, Jan. 10 in Pritchard Hall.

Rev. Jensen, associate pastor of the First Congregational Church of Pasadena, recently returned from Europe where he represented the Church World Service. During his talk he will show colored slides taken on his trip.

Mayor Feted On Birthday

Mayor J. Milton Steinberger was honored on his birthday Friday by an honest-to-goodness birthday party presented by members of the City Hall crew.

During the brief celebration in Building Inspector William Lees' office, the Mayor was given a birthday greeting card signed by City Hall employees.

The party, which Mr. Steinberger said was one of the few "real" birthday celebrations he has had, was attended by nine persons.

"December 30 has always been much too close to December 25 to warrant much in the way of a birthday party," he said.

Refreshments, served by Dorothy Murphy and Rosalie Goodwin, consisted of cake and coffee.

Besides Mayor Steinberger, Mrs. Murphy, and Mrs. Goodwin, other guests present at the party included William Lees, Vernon Udell, Mrs. Marie Warfel, Alfred James Dewey, James C. Heasley, Lawrence B. Brain, and Mrs. Ruth Custer.
